The Present Regime

is an aristocracy
swarming with sycophants, courtiers called Republicans, whose main regret seem to be they can’t suck themselves off.

(Cue giant sucking sound)
The opposition party yaps on television like indignant seals, (Cue multitudinous barking) but when the chips get down kisses any ass which hoves into view.

They have a name, too,
but it’s undeserved.